BRITISH MINERS SPLIT ON COMPROMISE

"INNOCENT" SAYS GAINES, CONVICTED OF KILLING GIRL

Death Penalty For Seattle Man Who Strangled Daughter

Appeal Will be Taken in Attempt to Save Prisoner From Noose

Seattle, Aug. 20.—"I'm innocent," declared Wallace C. Gaines, convicted murderer of his daughter Sylvia in his cell in the King County jail here today. "Nothing these jurors can say can make me otherwise, he said, I am innocent."

Gaines was last night found guilty of killing his daughter after a jury deliberated less than three hours, taking only three ballots to come to an agreement and fix his penalty at death.

"My husband is innocent, as innocent now as he was a short five minutes ago, a week ago, as innocent as when Sylvia was killed," commented Gaines' wife. "I will stick by him."

RECOMMEND GALLIOWS
"We find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree," the verdict read, "and recommend the death penalty be inflicted."

William Gaines, the prisoner's brother, collapsed after the verdict had been read, but both Bob and his wife, Elizabeth, who had sat through the long trial with him and testified in his behalf, remained outwardly calm.

The jury deliberated three hours, lacking four minutes. When at 4 o'clock, after spending an hour in the jury room, a voice from inside announced:

"Call Judge Jones. We have reached a verdict."

Mrs. Gaines and William Gaines, county commissioner, had remained in the courtroom when the jury was liberated. At the word that a verdict was reached, Mrs. Gaines betrayed marked nervousness.

A crowd began to assemble. Judge Jones arrived. Then Gaines was brought in from the county jail. He seemed composed, and took his seat beside his wife at the attorney's table. There was a twenty minute wait for the lawyers.

Oppressive silence in the atmosphere of intense gloom settled down as the jury was called in and took their seats. E. C. Townsend, foreman, handed up the verdict, and the document urging that Gaines be punished for his crime by death was broadcast to the world of the verdict had fallen upon the courtroom.

Defence Attorney Macfarlane demanded the jury be polled. One by one their names were called, and each testified that it was his verdict.

An appeal will be taken, Defence Counsel Carmody stated to the court, in an attempt to save Gaines from the noose.

SCORES OF SKULLS AMONG DISCOVERIES

Anthropologist Gathers Important Data on North American Indians

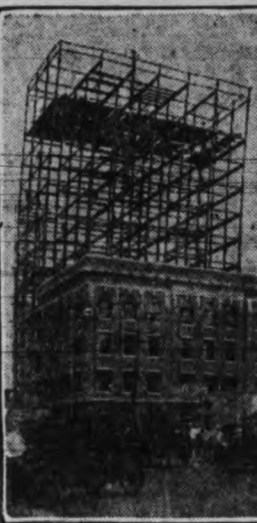

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 20.—Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, anthropologist of the Smithsonian Institution, is taking to Washington, D.C., important data uncovered in Alaska in an effort to determine whether North American Indians originated in Asia, he revealed here today. He is en route to San Francisco on the United States coastguard cutter Bear after spending the summer in Alaska. Scores of skulls are among his discoveries.

Hrdlicka said the Yukon River, which runs generally east and west across the entire territory of Alaska, was the most likely avenue of travel of Asiatics believed to have made their way into Northern America and spread over this continent ages ago. Floods of the river have apparently obliterated all signs of the supposed ingress, he said.

WOMAN'S SUSPICIONS SET POLICE ON TRAIL OF STOCK SALESMAN

London, Aug. 20.—What is believed to have been a well planned scheme to dupe Middlesex residents of thousands of dollars by the changing of sound investments for worthless securities, has come to the attention of the authorities through the quick action of a Park Hill woman whose suspicions were aroused after she had started with forty-one shares of Brazilian Tractor stock. Several other cases where promises of residents had been approached by a high-pressure salesman, but did not yield, have come to the attention of Crown Attorney Judd. He is at present gathering all available information on the case.

EXONERATED SAYS COMMISSIONER ON MARGARET CRUISE

Acting Premier Receives Report of Sir Francis Lemieux

Obvious Course to Pursue is to Declare Incident Closed

Ottawa, Aug. 20. (Canadian Press)—Sir Henry Drayton, acting premier, has received the report of Sir Francis Lemieux, Royal Commissioner appointed to investigate the administration of the department of customs and excise in the "Margaret" case.

Statements made from the political platform by A. J. Doucet, former M.P. for Kent, N.B., in regard to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, were investigated at a special sitting of the commission held in Quebec on the fifth and seventh of this month.

The hearing at Quebec, states the commissioner, was for the purpose of ascertaining whether grave accusations made against the Hon. Ernest Lapointe and also the Hon. Jacques Bureau, former Minister of Customs, were well-founded.

SHOWED NO GROUNDS
The report of Sir Francis set forth the statement of R. L. Calder, K.C., at the opening of the Quebec inquiry, to the effect that investigation had not shown any ground for the allegation that the Margaret was used for "joy cruises" or that Hon. Ernest Lapointe had been a participant in the cruises.

Sir Francis stated that after these official declarations, made without restriction or equivocation and with greatest frankness by the lawyers, the role of the commissioner was simplified.

In view of these declarations by counsel, says Sir Francis, the obvious course to pursue was to declare the incident closed. Sir Francis states that he abstains from commenting on the statements made by counsel, and on the evidence which completely exonerated Messrs. Lapointe and Bureau.

The commissioner expresses appreciation of the spirit which prompted the holding of a speedy investigation of the charges so as to allow the truth to be reached as early as possible.

Sir Francis states that he will not make any remarks on the statements made by counsel at the hearing. The facts elucidated by the report only deals with the Quebec evidence. Further evidence is required to the Margaret may be produced when the inquiry continues in Halifax.

BLOODHOUNDS AND POLICE TRAIL TWO YOUTHFUL BANDITS

Boys of Twenty-one and Fourteen Terrorize Part of Colorado

Elder Chuckles as He Tells Police of Exploits

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 20.—Leslie Gonce, fourteen-year-old bandit, was shot and probably fatally wounded today when he attempted to draw a revolver when ordered to surrender by Deputy Sheriff Charles F. Ficus. The boy was shot three times in the neck and chest.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 20.—Forest Gonce, twenty-one, brother, Leslie, has terrorized the countryside, was arrested near the home of his parents here yesterday. Leslie is still at large.

Aeroplane searches, bloodhounds and posse have been on the trail of the youthful bandits for ten days. The boys decided to abandon their career of outlaws after successfully eluding the many posses who scoured the countryside for nearly a week, Forest said. "There was no thrill left in it, so we decided to go some place where there were officers to entertain us," he said, smiling as he recalled futile efforts of aeroplane searches, bloodhounds and posses to run them to earth.

The revolver he carried during his latest series of escapades "wasn't a very good one and wouldn't always work," Forest declared. However, he had one "that would work pretty good," he told officers, when he and Leslie shot their way to freedom after being arrested for robbing a filling station in Garden City, Kas., a few days ago.

CHUCKLES
He laughed as he recalled the terror of a deputy sheriff who was relieved of his weapons and automobile by the two chuckles as he told of the case with which he and Leslie held up a Y.M.C.A. Summer camp near Rye, Col., Monday night, and of the apparent terror in which he and his brother were held throughout the whole country.

"We were over-rated," he said. "We decided, might as well be a tough customer to handle if officers attempting to arrest him 'got hard'."

MEIGHEN THROTTLED VOICE OF CANADIANS
Remember Political Past, Former Solicitor-General Advises

Inflicted Brutal Closure on Laurier Safeguarding Dominion Autonomy

Waterloo, Que., Aug. 20.—"Put aside all your prejudices," urged Hon. Lucien Meighen, former Solicitor-General, speaking here yesterday at the Liberal Sheffield convention, "and all preconceived ideas, and tell me if you have the right to forget the political past of those who ask you for your favor."

"Mr. Meighen is the first man in the House of Commons who represented Tory ideas which should have disappeared long ago. He inflicted brutal closure on Laurier, when our great leader wanted to safeguard the autonomy of Canada in the matter of conscription in the navy. Mr. Meighen closed the lips of the most eloquent person known in Canada by the 'gas' law."

"You have no right also to forget that it is he who in 1917, when there was talk of elections, put his hand on the throats of the Canadian people. He is the author of the War-time Elections Act."

THE KISS OF PARDON
"Who" wanted Quebec and other provinces to forget these things, and now wants to give him the kiss of pardon and peace? He came into parliament and there, speaking the French language, said that he had pardoned the Province of Quebec. Meighen pardon us? What is there for him to pardon? Is it that the Province of Quebec chased him from power in 1917? We chased him and his associates from power. We have nothing to be pardoned for, and we have nothing to forget. In 1921 we told Mr. Meighen we did not want him. In 1922 we repeated it to him, and in 1923 we will repeat that we do not want him and his administration, especially when he comes into Quebec with Hon. E. L. Patenaude as his chief lieutenant. When Mr. Patenaude accepted the portfolio of Justice he threw out a defiance to the intelligence of his native province."

"Who" went on Mr. Cannon, "who was the leader of the Liberal Party, the man who in the dark days, when Quebec was isolated, isolated, threatened with having its population reduced to slavery, when it was sought to make pariahs of the Quebec people who had chosen to stand by the side of Laurier? It was Mr. King, an English Protestant, who at the very door of Toronto defended the Laurier policy."

LOVE TRAGEDY LEADS TO SERIOUS CHARGE

Alphouse Smith Faces Court For Alleged Murder

Severe Bruises Revealed as Face Bandages Removed

Canterbury, Eng., Aug. 20.—Alphouse Francis Austin Smith, who was remanded last week on the charge of the attempted murder of John Thomas Derham at Stella Maria Villa, was arraigned before a magistrate today on the capital charge. He again was remanded for a week.

Smith, who was a grandson of the late Hugh Ryan, of Canadian Pacific Railway building fame, and Derham, who came of a well known British family, are alleged to have fought over the attentions Derham had been paying to Mrs. Smith, the former Catherine White, Derham died of a bullet wound several hours after the quarrel.

Smith, who on his previous appearance in court, had his face heavily swathed in bandages, came into court today with the bandages removed, revealing severe bruises.

The only witness to-day was a police inspector, who testified that on August 17 he told the prisoner, then in Maidstone prison, that Derham had died. To this, the inspector said, Smith replied, "I am not guilty."

HAD PRESENTIMENT OF VIOLENT DEATH

Victim of Air Smash Thought He Would Not Die in Bed

London, Aug. 20.—"I have a presentiment that I will never die in my bed, and when my time comes I prefer to die on one of my air trips," said the popular club manager, Vito Rinaldi, one of the victims of yesterday's aeroplane disaster in a conversation with a friend only recently.

His remarks were made just before his last flight to Paris where he was a frequent air visitor.

"Besides, you know how well known I am in club land, and then all London will be talking about poor old Rinaldi," he added, smiling.

That is just what all London is doing to-day, regretting the loss of his well known figure and remarking at the same time on his curious foreboding and the fact that he expected to return to London yesterday morning, but was detained, causing him to board the fatal plane.

ARMED BANDITS GET $10,300 PAYROLL

Niagara Falls, Aug. 20.—Four armed bandits held up Robert Kelly, payroll clerk for the Spicella Company in the plant office and stole the company's payroll estimated at $10,300 at noon to-day. The bandits escaped in a large touring car. The money had just been delivered to the plant by the police armed car.

SIDNEY ISLAND BRICK PLANT TO BE RE-ERECTED

Loss in Spectacular Fire Estimated at $20,000, States Henry C. Hall

In a statement to The Times today Henry C. Hall, K.C., on behalf of the Peerless Brick and Tile Company Limited, Sidney Island, stated the firm had decided to rebuild the Sidney Island plant destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated roughly in the neighborhood of $20,000, pending final reports from the plant.

The fire started from an unknown source late on Wednesday evening, springing into violence during the night hours. By Thursday morning the conflagration sent a column of flame high into the air, and presented a spectacle that attracted attention from a distance of fifteen miles around. At Sidney the sight of the flames made residents inclined to believe that those on the island might be in danger. Boats put out.

After the flames were brought under a measure of control—there was the central portion of the brick plant had been badly gutted. For the moment twenty-five employees, engaged in the operation of the plant, are idle, but the burnt section will be rebuilt, stated Mr. Hall today. It is planned to make an immediate start on the erection of the new structure to take the place of the plant and equipment destroyed by fire. Insurance was carried.

FATALITIES MARK RIOTS IN MEXICO

Clashes Between Opposing Factions Follow Election

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—Bitter rivalry between political factions in Congress, here culminated in a pitched street battle with fatalities. Colonel Andres Garcia and Desiderio Marcos were killed yesterday and Santiago Capistrano was shot several times through the body.

"Politicians have been disputing the results of the congressional election held in July, and a guard of federal troops has been stationed in the chamber to prevent factions from combat. The religious situation has been in no way connected with the strife."

Parliamentary elections were held in Mexico on July 4 last, and since then there have been clashes between the opposing factions. In a manner Mexico appeared to have two chambers of deputies, each claiming authority, ready to take over the power September 1, when congress convenes.

The political situation has been even more tense the last few days because the two opposing congressional groups appointed two "electoral colleges" to canvass the returns and a guard of federal troops has been stationed in the chamber to make sure that the rival factions did not clash in that building.

TWO ELECTROCUTED IN SING SING CHAIN

One Plotted Hold-up Tragedy; Negro Killed Wife and Daughter

Ossining, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Two men were electrocuted in Sing Sing prison last night. They were David Demalo, thirty-three, of New Rochelle, N.Y., convicted of plotting a hold-up in which two Mount Vernon trolley company employees were killed last year, and William Moyer, twenty-five, New York City negro, who killed his wife and eight-year-old daughter.

DELEGATES REPRESENTING THIRTEEN THOUSAND MEN ACCEPT NEW PROPOSAL

General Movement Back to Coalfields Expected to Follow Acceptance of Offer of Nottinghamshire Owners of Seven-and-half Hour Day at Old Wages

London, Aug. 20.—The biggest breakaway of coal miners from the policy of the Miners' Federation which has occurred since the strike in the mines was called more than three months ago, came last night when delegates representing about 13,000 men and boys employed in the Bolsover Company, in the Nottinghamshire coalfields, accepted a proposal of the mine owners to resume work at their old wages for a seven and a half hour day. This constituted a compromise between the Federation's insistence that the seven-hour day must be maintained and the miners' demand for an eight-hour day.

HON. S. F. TOLMIE AND REEVE ANSCOMB ASK LONG WILLOWS LEASE

City Should Accord Agricultural Association Terms Warranting Expansion

Oak Bay Solidly Behind the Plans of Fair Executive

The annual banquet tendered stockmen by the British Columbia Agricultural Association took place here at the grounds of the fair. Vice-president E. M. Whyte of Alberni presided in the absence of President Munroe. The speakers included Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, Mayor Pendray of Victoria, Reeve Anscomb of Oak Bay and H. H. Webb of Chilliwack, one of the veteran members of the association.

After Mayor Pendray had welcomed the stockmen and praised them for a fine testimonial to the good treatment of the Willows country, he declared that Oak Bay is solidly behind any measures for the advancement of the Exhibition. He considered the Victoria stockmen as a support to the Agricultural Association and should not, at intervals, give countenance to offers to purchase the Willows country. He believed the association to be entitled to a long lease, warranting progressive expansion of the exhibition facilities.

Hon. Dr. Tolmie considered that the yearly appearance of livestock exhibitors from Central Canada was a fine testimonial to the good treatment received at Victoria. He forecasted that excellent crops on the Prairies would result in much money being circulated in this Fair. Fair in Prairie centres being marked by general optimism among the farmers.

He told of the betterments in livestock, the increased consumption of eggs following grading regulations, and departmental efforts to introduce grading of hogs. Dr. Tolmie praised the work of the wheat pools in the prairies, so successful in obtaining for farmers the full value of their grain.

While heavy horses are dwindling in many districts, Dr. Tolmie said that thoroughbreds have increased in recent years and he forecast that breeding of heavy horses would be resumed.

"It is pleasing to note that the market for beef cattle is improving a bit," Dr. Tolmie remarked, but regretted that much poor cattle is now being forced on the market.

YOUTH SUFFOCATED BY FURNACE DUST

No Inquest Necessary in Case of Young Vancouver Man

Victim of Tragedy Was Student at Victoria High School

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—No inquest was held on David Keenan, twenty-one, found dead in the furnace at The Abbey, a private school, at an early hour yesterday morning, according to an announcement from the coroner's office. Post-mortem examination is said to have revealed death was due to suffocation, a quantity of small particles of ash dust being found in the lungs. It is assumed by the authorities that Keenan received a shock from the extension cord he had taken with him into the furnace and collapsed face downward into the ashes, suffocating while unconscious.

Keenan had a brilliant record as a student, taking his matriculation from Victoria High School with honors. He had completed three years at the University of British Columbia, where he was active in student affairs.

ENDORSEMENT FORECAST

Although it is yet to be seen whether the miners generally endorse the action of the delegates, it is predicted that virtually all concerned will eagerly accept the compromise and that work will start again forthwith. Other mine owners in Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire have announced their readiness to reopen their pits on the same terms as have been given by the Bolsover Company.

Whether the present development was the result of the collapse of the negotiations yesterday between the mine owners and the miners, which it had been hoped would serve to bring about peace in the long controversy is not yet apparent.

SOME GOING BACK

Miners in various districts have been going back to work in small numbers, aggregating a few thousand, but there has been no general movement back to the mines. Some observers of the situation profess to hope that the acceptance of the Bolsover Company's scale will mean the beginning of the end of the strike.

Dugald Donaghy Expected to Speak Here in September

Dugald Donaghy, K.C. of Vancouver, who has been invited by the Liberal Association to speak here at a meeting tentatively arranged for next Tuesday evening, will not be able to accept the invitation at this time, being scheduled to commence a speaking tour of the Kootenai on Monday.

Mr. Donaghy was member of Parliament for North Vancouver in the last House, and as a member of the House committee investigating the customs scandal has been active in combating the misstatements of H. H. Stevens.

Liberals of Victoria are anxious that Mr. Donaghy should speak here, and will endeavor to arrange another meeting during September, to enable Victorians to hear Mr. Donaghy.

Mr. Donaghy is in the present election, seeking to oust Mr. Stevens from his stronghold, the contest being one of the most interesting in the whole Dominion.

TWO YOUTHS FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

One Alleged Gunman Alcohol and Drug User

Maynard, Mass., Aug. 20.—One youth, twenty-two years old, was dead to-day, and a second, his chum, awaited arraignment at Concord on a charge of murder. The first degree as a result of the unexplained shooting yesterday of Arthur Jeffries by Charles Silvert.

After long questioning, Silvert, said by police to have been an alcohol and drug user, could give no reason for the crime.

"Why should I kill him? He was my pal," was all he could tell his questioners.

Silvert shot Jeffries as the latter sat with an uncle in an automobile. The shooting followed a casual exchange of greetings.

GROWERS WORSE OFF THAN WORKERS WAGE BOARD TOLD

Wives and Daughters Get Less Than Cannery Workers, They Claim

Telegram Filed Before Conference in Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—On petition of employees the Minimum Wage Board met at the courthouse today to consider minimum wages paid women in the fruit and vegetable industry of British Columbia. The principal complainant was against the money earned in canneries for piece work.

From Kelowna the British Columbia Tomato Growers' Association telegraphed J. D. McNiven, chairman of the board, protesting against wages paid in canning and evaporating factories and in fruit packing houses. The telegram reads:

"We regret our inability to send delegates to present our views, but wish to protest against the present scale of wages prevailing in canning and evaporating factories and fruit packing houses. Unless we, as growers, can be guaranteed equal treatment and assured an equal standard of living under present conditions ourselves, wives and daughters cannot earn as much per hour producing and harvesting the tomatoes and fruit as is guaranteed factory and packing house employees handling the products, and the effect of this legislation and standard of wages, owing to it being greatly in excess of wages paid for like work in Eastern Canadian factories, is to permit the Eastern products to come West so far that our natural markets are being restricted, and we are being faced with the alternative of producing less or accepting still lower prices, which will eventually drive the white farmer off the land."

"We humbly submit that wages paid in our factories and packing houses should not be higher than is paid for like service in Eastern Canadian factories that are competing with our British Columbia factories and fruit packing houses."

Mr. McNiven announced that the board would consider the telegram with representatives of employers, employees and the public.

Apparatus-greatest-the statement of A. L. Watson, Farmers' Canning Company, Mission City, "if the industry won't stand for payment of reasonable wages to female workers it is time they closed up and got out."

LIVING COSTS

There would be no inquiry into the cost of living on this occasion, announced the chairman, and the board would accept for comparison the Government figures which in June, 1925, recorded $36.58 as the weekly cost of a family of five, and in 1924, the necessary budget was $21.31.

He explained that the meeting was open to the public, but conferences would be in private.

The principal questions, he stated, concerned wages and hours of labor for women workers in the fruit and vegetable industry. The Minimum Wage Act required employers to pay employees of three months' experience a minimum of $14 for a forty-eight-hour week. Inexperienced girls' wages ranged from $10 to $12 a week.

PIECEWORK

Several members of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council stated that the minimum wage was evaded by piecework in the canneries; that women were afraid to speak for fear of losing jobs, that as far as the girls were concerned the minimum wage law was a farce, and that a change was needed in the piecework system. Under this system, according to one spokesman, a woman who worked from early Monday morning to late Saturday night earned $5.65 and another for thirty-four hours' work received a cheque for $5.62.

While endorsing the piecework system, which, he contended, was fair compensation for services rendered, A. L. Watson, Mission City, favored amendment of the board's order to make it valid and give effect to its original intention.

Mr. Watson also advocated that the three months' period, fixed for inexperienced employees to become experienced, should be reduced to three weeks.

CONFEREES

At the conference the employees are represented by Mrs. J. Campbell, Vancouver; Mrs. E. C. P. Venables, Penticton, and Mrs. Clement, Kelowna. The employers are represented by H. C. Wade, Dominion Canners, Vancouver; A. A. Watlie, Western Packing Corporation, Vancouver, and A. L. Watson, Farmers' Canning Company, Mission. The three representatives of the public named by the Labor Department are Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Victoria; Mrs. A. Wells Gray, New Westminster, and Mrs. J. H. Miller, Vernon.

LIBERALS LAUGH AT TORY CLAIMS OF QUEBEC SEATS

Believe Meighen Will Not Get Seat in Saskatchewan and Lose Five in Manitoba

Ottawa, Ont., August 20.—Although polling day is still some distance away both parties have started figuring on the result. The provisional government party lays claim to 130 seats, but bases this estimate on the assumption that it will hold what it had at the last parliament and will secure the familiar fifteen seats in Quebec, which for the past three elections it has not ceased to lay claim to beforehand.

NOT ONE SAFE

Quebec Liberals laugh at this claim and contend that no seat in the province is actually safe for the Conservatives.

"I have converted Mr. Meighen to my ideas," said Hon. E. L. Patenaude, referring to the imperialistic question, which has been referred to Mr. Meighen's Hamilton speech, repeated at Montreal, and never since repudiated by the Conservative leader. What effect this remarkable utterance, coupled with Mr. Patenaude's claim to have converted Mr. Meighen to his ideas, will have is problematical.

Mr. Patenaude's "idea" are fairly well known. In 1911 he preached "no participation in the empire's war," while Sir Robert Borden was preaching no truck or trade with the Yankees. Mr. Patenaude was a Nationalist then and he is still a Nationalist. It will be interesting to know whether Mr. Meighen will admit of his conversion in Ontario to Mr. Patenaude's way of thinking.

READY TO PULL OUT?

The ironical side of the question, however, is that Mr. Patenaude himself has practically no hope of being elected or of being with his convert in the next house. In fact, Mr. Meighen himself has the fight of his life on his own hands at Portage la Prairie, where he was once beaten before.

Things are far from hopeful for the Conservatives in Quebec. The breaks have been against them. A pamphlet entitled "Putrefaction," which contains a list of names in keeping with the title was circulated throughout the province. It related to the joy of the royal commission but a brief time to discover that the pamphlet was satirical fiction. Then another pamphlet was sent broadcast attacking Hon. George Harkin. Death took Mr. Bolvin and the Conservative propaganda bureau, it is said, would dearly like to be able to recall that contents of which were the contents of the pamphlet.

In fact it is now rumored that L. J. Gauthier, who was to oppose Mr. Bolvin, has pretty well decided to pull out and seek another seat.

Therefore the Tory claim to fifteen seats in Quebec are subject to a heavy discount.

SHEIK OF PICTURES NOW OUT OF DANGER

Rudolph Needs a Few Weeks in Hospital to Recuperate

New York, Aug. 2.—Rudolph Valentino of the movies was reported definitely out of danger and on the road to recovery to-night. A bulletin late to-day from his attending physicians at the Poly-clinic hospital where he has been a patient since Sunday when he was operated upon for appendicitis, and gastric ulcer, announced he was making "satisfactory progress, having passed the most critical period."

No further bulletins will be issued, it was announced, unless an unexpected development occurs.

S. George Ullman, Valentino's manager, in an announcement declared the "sheik of the screen," but said it probably would be necessary for the actor to remain at the hospital three or four weeks to recuperate.

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—Before an audience that packed the ballroom of the Hotel Vancouver and overflowed into the lower dining room, where loud speakers were installed, Dugald Donaghy, Liberal candidate in Vancouver Centre, last night opened his campaign. "Christie M.P.P. was in the chair and W. F. Hanbury, Liberal candidate in Burrard, and Paul McD. Kerr, Liberal standard-bearer in Vancouver South, both spoke briefly.

Mr. Donaghy devoted the greater portion of his address to answering the arguments presented by Premier Meighen here last Tuesday night. He referred briefly to the customs investigation, stating he was leaving further decision to a more open issue as some of the others which he had discussed.

TO IMPROVE SERVICE

Mr. Donaghy, however, made it clear that he was ready to give battle on the customs issue to his opponent. Declaring that no government was to blame if it did not succeed in stamping out smuggling, he added that he would prefer to discuss the customs matter before the improvement of the service, but was also prepared and willing to discuss it on other lines. If challenged, "I await developments," he concluded significantly, as the audience laughed and applauded.

Referring to the Australian treaty Mr. Donaghy said that "Conservative leaders were making a football of the pact."

The ironical side of the Australian market for Canadian paper because in that year England negotiated a treaty with Australia which gave English paper a preference of $15 per ton," he said. "In 1925, the MacKenzie King Government opened negotiations for the purpose of reviving the Australian market and the trade treaty resulted. Under it we have again secured the Australian market. Canadian paper enters Australia free of duty, while paper from all foreign lands is handicapped by a duty of $15 per ton."

MEIGHEN AGAINST IT

"When the treaty was before Parliament for ratification, Mr. Meighen voted against it. Mr. Stevens paired with a Liberal member and both were absent from the House. General J. A. Chalmers, who was present, said they were not at the post of duty in supporting the interests of Western Canada and British Columbia."

"Four weeks ago the Prime Minister elevated to his cabinet the greatest enemy of the Australian market in Canada, Hon. Donald Sutherland, one of the Ontario members."

JAPANESE ADVOCATES FULL NEWS SERVICE

Wants no Peace Time Censorship and Less in War Time

Geneva, Aug. 20.—The East and the West would know each other better if there were a larger and more extended exchange of news. This statement was made by M. Zumoto, delegate of the Japanese News Agency, Nippon Shimbun Rengosha, at the opening session yesterday of the conference of news agencies, which will prepare the agenda for an International Press Conference. M. Zumoto was urging the lowering of international rates and other press rates as an essential preliminary to fuller news services relative to the Far East.

Quick progress was made with the programme which embraces international recognition and protection of property rights in news, minimum rates, speedy transmission, abolition of censorship in peace time and less rigorous censorship in war time.

STORY OF B.C.'S PENSION PROTEST IS FLATLY DENIED

No Truth in Conservative Statement Government Here Turned Down Old Age Bill

Dr. MacLean Back From Cariboo Sure Liberals Will Carry Interior Seat

Loose statements which Conservative leaders are making about old age pensions also are here being checked up by Liberals. Among other things it has been asserted that the British Columbia Government notified the Federal Government that it would not adopt the old age pension bill introduced in Parliament by the Mackenzie King Government, endorsed by the House of Commons and later rejected by the Senate. It was explained to-day that the British Columbia Government gave the federal authorities no such notification. On the contrary, as announced by Premier Oliver in his speech before the Liberal nominating convention here this week, the Provincial Government is prepared to recommend the adoption of the bill here, should it be passed at Parliament's next session.

Another Conservative story is that the bill would exclude any widow who was not a British subject before her marriage. Such is not the case, it was pointed out. The bill extends to every person who at the date of the proposed commencement of the pension was a British subject and in addition, the bill extends to a widow who was a British subject before her marriage.

TO WIN CARIBOO

Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance in the Oliver Government, returned here to-day after campaigning in the federal riding of Cariboo.

"My belief is that the Cariboo riding will swing back to the Liberal Party by an emphatic majority," Dr. MacLean asserted. "I do not think there is any doubt that the electors of Cariboo already have made up their minds to vote against the Meighen Government. This will be a gain for the Liberal Party, as Cariboo went Conservative in the last election."

Dr. MacLean said he found the people of British Columbia intensely interested in the campaign and particularly in the constitutional issue. The Conservative Party's action in killing old age pensions by the Senate's rejection of the old age pension bill, Dr. MacLean affirmed, has caused a strong feeling of protest throughout the country. The benefits of the Robb Budget also are having a big effect on the campaign, he said.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative candidate in Victoria, will leave here at the beginning of next week to speak in Comox-Alberni. To-night he will address a meeting of the Sir John A. Macdonald Club in Conservative headquarters on the tariff. Victoria Liberals held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting last night to prepare for the coming campaign. The optimism of these people was encouraging to Liberal leaders, who said to-day the campaign would be prosecuted from now on with the utmost vigor. A number of meetings will be held in the city during the next few weeks, and arrangements for these rallies are in the hands of a capable committee, which will announce details later.

Murdered Editor Buried Yesterday

Montreal, Aug. 20.—J. Antonio Beaudry, well known Montreal editor and publisher, who was found dead in his office here on Monday with two bullets in his back, was buried yesterday. While the funeral mass was being celebrated, detectives were still engaged trying to solve the mystery of Beaudry's murder. A point mentioned by the investigators was that they had learned that when the bullets were fired Beaudry was perusing a special statement but whether this has any bearing on the case the police were not in a position to say.

NEWS IN BRIEF

J. P. Sarait took first prize for the best collection of three varieties of peaches at the exhibition.

A special general meeting of the Veterans of France will be held in the club rooms on Monday, August 23 at 8 p.m.

W. Waite, charged with driving to the common danger on the Island Highway, at a point near the Craigflower Bridge, was this morning arraigned before Magistrate Jay in the Provincial Police Court and fined $20.

A communication from the Victoria branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, suggesting parking regulations in the municipality was read at the Oak Bay Council meeting last night. The Council decided to advise the club that a parking by-law was being considered.

The next regular session of the City School Board will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. The meeting is the first in this month and is preparatory to the reopening of the schools next month.

James Landy was yesterday morning fined $15 in the city police court for driving to the common danger. John Lowery, yesterday reported as having been fined, was not called until this morning. He is charged with a similar offence but was remanded to-day until next week.

George A. Trussdale, charged with bigamy, after a long series of remand and adjournments, was arraigned before Magistrate Jay in the city police court this morning. Further evidence was heard in his case, but he was again remanded until next Friday.

Many favorable comments have been given on the gladioli exhibit of Peter McNaughton of Gordon Head in the flower show at the exhibition. The exhibit contains a number of unusual varieties not noticed in the larger exhibits. Among some of his blooms are "Black Paney," a large dark variety, "Radio" and "Gladiolus."

A special session of the City Council, to take the place of the abandoned regular Monday meeting next week, will be held at 4 p.m. to-day. There is little to come before the mayor and aldermen save committee reports and incidental business. On Sunday five members of the council will attend the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Though no large individual permits were taken out at the City Hall this week, building figures throughout the city are holding well up to the new peak established in the current year. To date this year $490,477 worth of new construction has been undertaken, exclusive of $49,000 spent annually by the city in repairs to its own buildings and their upkeep.

The total for the complete twelve months of 1925 was $556,167, and $300,164 at August 15 this year.

JONES, OF PORTLAND, IS TELETYPE CHAMPION NEW SENIOR BY BEATING T. S. LIPPY

When T. S. Lippy, of Seattle, defending champion, failed to take advantage of errors on the part of A. O. Jones, of Portland, at the seventeenth hole this morning at the Victoria Golf Club, he lost his chance to retain his crown as king pin of the Senior Northwest Golf Association. When Jones holed out for a six and Lippy required one more stroke the Nichol Cup, emblematic of the championship, went to the veteran from the Rose City. The margin of Jones' victory was 2 up and 1 to play.

Jones was one up on going to the seventeenth tee and laid into his tee shot, but it had a hook on it and went into the trees, out of bounds. His second tee shot went 260 yards straight down the fairway. Lippy was straight, as usual, with his tee shot, but was considerably short of Jones. He was, however, a stroke to the good. Jones got another fine shot and was within a yard of crossing the green into the rough. Lippy still had a chance to at least halve the hole, but he took three putts. Jones, however, was in with the hole and match and he made it.

Jones was too strong with his tee shot and was within a yard of crossing the green into the rough. Lippy still had a chance to at least halve the hole, but he took three putts. Jones, however, was in with the hole and match and he made it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McCue Traveled 24,000 Miles in Same Car

At Halfway Point in Two-year Cruise on Wheels For Children's Sake

Visiting in the city to-day on a travel tour which will keep him two years on the road before he returns with his family to Philadelphia, is James G. McCue.

To The Times to-day Mr. and Mrs. McCue gave an interesting account of the first half of their trip, in which they traveled 24,000 miles in a twelve months' tour of the United States. They are accompanied by two children, James, seven, and Carolyn, twenty-eight months.

Carolyn started her travelogue at the age of thirteen months, and is perhaps the most traveled infant on the continent.

From Atlantic to Pacific, and from the international boundary line to Mexico, the Dodge touring car which carried Mr. and Mrs. McCue and their children has traversed a distance approaching that which spans the world at its widest part. In that time, just over a year to-day, the engine has had its own share of two occasions, and that comprises the extent of garage attention needed in the whole trip.

After leaving Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. McCue plan to see Vancouver before once more setting out on their gasoline trek. They will return to San Francisco, where they will take passage for Honolulu, planning to spend some weeks in the enchanted islands of the Southern Ocean. Mr. McCue is enthusiastic about the performance of his car, and attributes much of the success of his trip to the smooth performance of the vehicle which made it possible.

One of the first things he did in the city was to hunt up A. E. Humphries, where the globe trotting car was inspected and photographed. For twelve months the party have averaged 2,000 miles a month, or just under seven miles a day. In that time they saw most of the leading centres of the United States, making a point of visiting the capital of each state in the union.

At Pawhuska, Oklahoma, they had an interesting experience with the famous Osage Indians, the wealthiest people in the world on a per capita basis due to oil influence. The Osage tribesmen, for a time, spent heavily, many of them parading the country in a fleet of cars, and some of them in a fleet of cars, and some of them in a fleet of cars.

"I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers"

Every animal in the zoo had a voice in the making of this record—and the result is as snappy a fox trot as you'll ever dance to.

These other new Victor records are also top-notch numbers.

"Lucky Day" Fox Trot A new sensation by George Olsen and his orchestra.

"Valentine" Fox Trot The biggest hit in the August list.

"Cherie" Waltz The kind of a waltz you are sure to like.

AUTOMATIC HEAT MACHINE FEATURED AT WILLOWS FAIR

Oilomatic Demonstration Causes Interest; Delco Light Plant Shown

One of the most remarkable of the many interesting demonstrations to be seen at the Willows is the household heating equipment, installed opposite the Main Building by McDowell and Mann, illustrating the wonderfully efficient Oilomatic burner for using fuel oil as a household heating agent.

The apparatus is designed to eliminate all furnace action troubles, and is suitable for private homes of the larger type. Automatic controls cause the fuel blower to function when the temperature drops below a designated mark, and on attaining the desired warmth another set of instruments cuts off the supply of oil.

Many homes the new arrangement has enabled the owners to convert the basement to other uses, and properly used as clothes dryers, so remarkably clean is the Oilomatic apparatus. When the furnace is in full operation, there is no smoke and it is only rarely that any haze is to be noted above the smoke stack when this new device is in use.

Economy is one of the features of oil burning by the Oilomatic system, annual fuel bills having been greatly reduced in all parts of the country as a result of this automatic cutting in and off of fuel supplies as the requirements of the home demand.

Another interesting display is the stand of H. J. Welch, who is newly established in Victoria as a representative of the Delco Division of the General Motors Corporation. Here is shown a farm electric light plant, which is entirely automatic in operation, the switching on of a light button causing the gasoline generating motor to commence operation, which continues as long as current is in demand. No storage batteries other than a standard starting battery are used.

A true stand-out is being shown the Frigidaire domestic electrical refrigerator, also a Delco product.

W. Coul of Vancouver has a string of racing whippets and these fleetest animals provided a number of races in the Willows oval during the afternoon and will also run to-morrow afternoon. Edna Brownie, reputed to be the fastest running animal in North America, attracted great attention.

Among the breeds entered in Victoria for the first time are specimens of the new American Chesapeake gun dogs, and the Doberman Pinscher type from Germany. The male, which has headed their class at previous exhibitions, while a remarkable entry from Portland, Oregon, will be found in Playfair's Let's Go, valued by experts at above $2,000.

There are a number of state-fair Russian wolfhounds in the show, and in contrast to these silent and stately animals are to be found a group of Pomeranians constantly calling attention to their presence. Meadows of Vancouver is the judge, and is assisted by Harry Dodds, superintendent of the show, and a number of other exhibitors, among who are Miss O'Brien and Jack Dodds of Vancouver. Judge Meadows has an international reputation as a dog fancier, having officiated as judge at many large California dog shows.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION The moonlight excursion to Roche Harbor to-morrow, as arranged by the Ladies' Aid of the Victoria City Temple, will leave, according to schedule, at 8 p.m. by the steamer Olympic. Zane's orchestra has been engaged to provide music for the trip. There will also be community singing and refreshments served. Tickets may now be obtained at the offices of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, 912 Government Street; Melrose and Company, Sun Electric Company, Fletcher's Music Store and at 508 Fernside Building. The Olympic will leave at the Puget Sound Navigation Company's docks at the rear of the Post Office at 8 p.m., returning about midnight.

Free Foot Comfort DEMONSTRATION

Saturday Afternoon and All Day Monday and Tuesday, August 21, 23, 24

Seven persons out of every ten have some form of foot trouble. It may be weak or broken-down arches, weak ankles, corns, callouses or bunions or probably a case of tired, aching, painful feet.

Regardless of what may be the nature of your foot suffering, you will find quick and lasting relief at our store during this special demonstration.

Foot Comfort Expert from Personal Staff of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl

At considerable expense this store has arranged for the services of one of Dr. Scholl's most skilled foot comfort experts. He will be pleased to see, on the above date, all persons suffering from any form of foot troubles. His services are absolutely free.

Free Podo-graph Prints of Your Feet

In a few seconds' time, without removing the shoe, he can make a perfect impression of your foot that positively shows if you do have foot troubles and to what stage the trouble has progressed.

Come in and get a sample of Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads for corns. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Sure, safe, instant relief.

WINS HIGH HONOR IN SEED GROWING CONTEST AT FAIR

Robert Clark Awarded Life Membership in B.C. Agricultural Association

Gaining one of the highest honors awarded at the fair, membership for life in the B.C. Agricultural Association, Robert Lancelot Clark, thirteen-year-old son of the late R. Clark of Gordon Head, headed the list in the semi-professional seed growing class for growers under twenty-one years of age.

Robert had a percentage of 81.90, 2.65 points ahead of his nearest rival, Gladys Miles.

The contest, provided by the agricultural association as the highest laurel for junior seed growers, has a four-fold nature. The greatest test of the competition is the keeping of a garden, covering some 500 square feet, for one year. In this Robert secured 23.55 marks out of a possible 30.

An exhibit of seed grown in this garden and shown at the fair is the next test. Out of forty marks Robert had thirty-three for his exhibit. Accompanying the tending of the garden, the entrant must keep a detailed diary of his work therein. A possible of 15 marks is given for this the winner securing 11.55. The final and by no means the least test is an essay on "Successful Seed Production in Greater Victoria." Robert gained

Luxton
LUXTON, AUG. 20.—A meeting of the Luxton and Harrow Valley Women's Institute was held in the Luxton Hall on Tuesday, with eighteen members present. The chair was taken by the president, Mrs. R. Brown. Included in the business of the meeting was the report of the flower show held in July, and the members decided that the prize money should be donated back to the institute. The secretary was instructed to call all children's prizes. Included in the correspondence were letters regarding the islands district conference and the district conference from the secretary of the institutes and Mrs. Gordon, which contained certain suggestions that won the unanimous approval of the members. Final arrangements were made for the entering at the Fall Fair, Mrs. Goodsell being appointed manager. Mrs. A. Hall offered to attend the gardeners' meeting at the Willows, in the interests of the institute, which offer was accepted. Several of the members of the Luxton and Harrow Valley Women's Institute attended the fête at Hatley Park last week in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, held under the auspices of the Colwood Women's Institute.

Mrs. S. Sandwith and daughter, Mrs. Jansen of Friday Harbor, Washington, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Mary Cooper, Arbutus Cottage.

Mrs. Minson and daughter, Peggy, of Victoria are spending a few days at the camp of Mrs. Jack Trace, "Glendale," Glen Lake.

The Misses Paula and Rose Patterson and Jack Patterson of Vancouver were the guests of Mrs. Moore at "Glen Mohr" for the week-end.

Mrs. Madders and her guest, Miss Mayo, are in Seattle for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansell and family are now at their camp for a week or two on the Glen Lake Road.

SEE CANADA FIRST DUNNING ADVISES

Wide Scattered People Should Become More Familiar

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Aug. 20.—"See Canada first" was the slogan referred to Canadians by Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Railways in the late government of Mackenzie King, speaking here on the same platform with Hon. J. A. Robb, former Minister of Finance.

Mr. Dunning argued that the widely scattered people of the Dominion should become more familiar with each other and he believed that Can-

Senior Golfers To Return To Capital
Again Next August

Veterans Not Willing to go Anywhere Else so Fifth Tournament Awarded Victoria

H. S. Graves of Spokane New President; Finals in All
Flights Being Played To-day

For the fifth successive year
Victoria has been awarded the annual tournament of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association.
At the annual meeting yesterday afternoon the veterans were unanimous in their desire to make the Capital the scene of the 1927 championship.

As far as the visiting members were concerned they were solid for Victoria, but the local men expressed themselves as being desirous of getting away from home once in awhile
and that they would like to see the American side of the border. When one member tried to introduce an amendment to the amendment to the effect that the tournament go to either Portland or Seattle one of the Americans arose and said that the Eighteenth Amendment killed that.
The Victoria members then turned around and extended open arms to the seniors and said they would be tickled in circles to have the tournament here again next year.

The championship next year will be held on August 15, 17, 18 and 19,
so now the members can return to their home clubs and begin training
right away.

SPOKANE MAN PRESIDENT

F. H. Graves of Spokane was elected president for the ensuing year and J. A. Hayward of Victoria is the new vice-president. Judge Lamp-man is to be the second vice-president and his honor the Lieut. Governor will be honorary president. The board of governors will include J. P.
Babcock, Victoria; C. S. Battle, Vancouver; M. H. Inley, Portland; F. G.
Fowkes, Victoria; John Galt, Victoria; C. H. Jones, Spokane; J. Collins, Seattle; J. F. Lyon, Tacoma; H.
S. Griggs, Tacoma; W. McMaister,
Portland; C. B. McNeill, Vancouver;
G. H. Barnard, Victoria; R. W. Wilson, Victoria; J. R. Strickland, Seattle;
and E. A. Strout, Seattle. Judge Lamp-man again heads the tournament committee.

The international teams which compete for the Nichol Cup this afternoon were announced after the annual meeting. They will be as follows:

United States—A. O. Jones, Portland; T. S. Lippy, Seattle; F. T. Van Tuyt, Seattle; J. A. Byerly, Portland;

Victoria; F. R. Stewart, Vancouver;
P. Criddle, Victoria; J. A. Dickinson, Victoria; W. A. Ward, Vancouver; J. A. Hayward, Victoria; T. Allen, Vancouver; C. B. McNeill, Vancouver; and J. Galt, Vancouver, captain.
The teams will meet in eighteen holes of match play. The Nichol Cup is at present held by the Americans and they stand a splendid chance of retaining it.

CHANCE FOR "B" TEAMS

The finals in grand championship
and the other three championships as well as the flights are being played this morning and this will leave the afternoon free for the team match.
In order that matches may be provided for many other players, the

SHATTERS RECORD

ARNE BORG

Budapest, Aug. 20.—Arne Borg of Sweden yesterday made what is claimed to be a world's record when he won the first heat of the 1,500
metre race at the European championship swimming meet. Borg's time was 20 minutes 44 seconds. A back stroke between the start and previous time for the distance, having covered it in 20 minutes 6 1/2
seconds at the Olympic games in Paris in 1924.

Race on Water, Air
And Land Will Be
Outstanding EventThriller Fixed up For Championship Regatta at San Francisco To-morrow

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—The fourth annual Pacific Coast championship
regatta, yachting classic of the Pacific seaboard, opens here Saturday
with an entry list representing cities
from British Columbia to San Diego.
It will conclude on August 25.

Nine days of carnival and competition on the waters of San Francisco Bay will bring together contestants ranging from small coasters to triplanes. More than twenty events are listed.
Ushering in the regatta on Saturday will be the perpetual challenge
cup race between the Santa Barbara Yacht Club and the defending Corinthian Yacht Club, of San Francisco.
It will be a race between The Activator, owned by Arthur Rousseau, Corinthian Club, and the challenger, Alert III,
flying the colors of Charles Wilson,
Santa Barbara and Chicago sportsman.

Water, land and air will provide
the setting for one unique event,
August 24, when a motor boat, automobile and train will race to Stockton, a matter of some eighty miles.

beat A. L. Dunn at 19th; P. Criddle
beat F. Nation, 3 and 1.
Third Flight—R. W. Gibson beat

Broom of Spokane, with 86-18-68.

Five Outsiders At Willows Yesterday
Get In First Three

Tingling Springs Second Surprise in Two Days; Pays
$20.30 on Place Ticket

Betting on All Races is Heavy
and Favorites are Heavily Laden With Money

Even after his brilliant display of Wednesday, the race
fans couldn't find enough faith
in Tingling, the chestnut gelding
of the Faulkner Stable, to back him against such horses as Dan Hogan, Jago and Pull Moon.
But with Shafer again in the saddle, he raced home second in the sixth race at the Willows yesterday, a twenty-to-one shot, and paid $20.30 for a $2.00 place ticket.
Pull Moon, the third choice, was under the wire two lengths ahead of him. Three small setbacks were given the form pickers in the immediate race, in the second
race; Wood Lady, in the fourth; Pull Moon in the sixth, and Nornal
in the last, hanging up nice-looking prices. Lomond Jr. in the first race was the only favorite to win during the day. Betting on all the races was heavy and the public made
homes about picking the favorites,
one horse usually being an outstanding choice in each race.

Rows urged Lomond Jr. the favorite in the first race, the fourth race, won by Pull Moon, was in a position of contention all the way round and was easily second best at the wire. Bill
Blackwell, the red hot choice of the
public, after a poor break, was
never able to figure in the running, although he closed fast to take
fourth position, a length and a half
behind the show horse.

UPSET DOPE

Radiant Light, Scute's bay gelding, upset the dope for the form
pickers when he romped home victoriously in the second race with a good three-length margin over Snow Mountain,
the place picker, to pay $12.40 to her owner. Radiant Light into the lead after leaving the barrier and gradually increased his advantage throughout.
Snow Mountain was in a position of contention all the way round and was easily second best at the wire. Bill
Blackwell, the red hot choice of the
public, after a poor break, was
never able to figure in the running, although he closed fast to take
fourth position, a length and a half
behind the show horse.

LEFT BARRIER LAST

Mint Julep, the second favorite,
made a fine effort in the fourth race,
tied the field, she gradually gained ground throughout the race, overhauling the leaders and finally taking the lead before the stretch turn to win by half a length. Wood Lady, the biggest outsider of the race, came thundering in behind her to pay $14.40
for a place bet. Wood Lady had the lead at the three-quarter post but was unable to maintain her advantage before the crowd. The public choice, Lady Barrett, the public choice, was third, a length behind
Wood Lady. Eugenia K. and Ucan, third favorite, set the pace at the start and raced neck and neck for the first half, where they tired very badly, finishing in sixth and fifth positions.

LED ALL WAY

Leading from start to finish Darrel J. second choice in the fifth race,
won easily and had plenty of reserve
speed as he flashed under the wire
two lengths ahead of Ike Harvey, an odds-on favorite. The latter, after breaking poorly gained ground
steadily but did not have enough speed to touch the winner, although he was well in advance of Gillflower, the third horse. Gillflower ran a good second to Darrel J. until the three-quarter mark, where she was forced to vacate under pressure by the favorite.

When Jago, the favorite, tired at the half-way post, Pull Moon jumped into the lead on the rail in the sixth race, and he was in the lead at the stretch turn, and it was not until the stretch that he put on a hard spurt. Dan Hogan squeaking into the stretch, show position. Jago, the favorite, was early in the stretch, but was too hot and fell back to sixth
at the end.

LUCKY WAS LUCKY

Hard riding on the part of Jockey Primrose and a fine response on the part of his mount, Nornal, brought the latter across the line in first place in the last race. Running

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Japan
went into a comfortable lead in the American zone Davis cup match here yesterday when they won both open singles matches
against the Cuban team.

Takelshi Harada defeated Rogelio Paris, Cuban captain, in the first match, 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, after a thrilling match in which Harada's placements proved a deciding factor once Paris started to sweat. He scored a bullseye on the sixth shot fired after
only one man of four had been
eliminated in the first five shots.

The first stage of the match
fired yesterday saw Sergeant G.
M. Emslie, Toronto, emerge victorious, but not until he had shot off a five shot. He scored a bull-
seye on the sixth shot fired after
only one man of four had been
eliminated in the first five shots.

The rifle team representing British Columbia won the first honors in the London Merchants Cup match yesterday, with Ontario second and Manitoba third.
S. G. M. Alexander, Fort St. John,
wrote the Grand Aggregate trophy, with a score of 520, three points higher than that of Sergeant M. Hawkins, Toronto, and five points higher than Sergeant
S. J. Stoddart, Hamilton. Sergeant Parnell will receive the R.A. Silver medal and $30 in cash.

The D.R.A. silver medal and $25
will go to Sergeant Hawkins,
and the D.R.A. bronze medal and $20
in cash.

Victoria and Vancouver Teams
Meet at Mt. Tolmie in the Flumerfelt Cup Series

Both Teams Will Be Strong
and Victorians Have High Hopes of Winning Out

An all-day cricket match will be played at Mt. Tolmie to-morrow between the Victoria and Vancouver picked eleven in the Flumerfelt Cup series. The match will start at 10.30 o'clock
and stumps will be drawn at 6.30 o'clock.

This will be the second game of the annual series. Vancouver captured the first match played on July 1 on the mainland, by a confounding margin, but the locals are in high hopes of squaring the account
to-morrow. With Sparks and Reg Wenman in particularly good form
the Victoria eleven.

The match this year is to be played at Mt. Tolmie owing to the poor state of the Jubilee pitch.

MAY MEAN THIRD MATCH

If Victoria win to-morrow a third match will be necessary to decide the resting place of the Flumerfelt
Cup for the year.

The Vancouver team will arrive on the morning boat, and will breakfast
at the Pacific Club.

E. D. Freeman will captain the Victoria side, and opposed to him
will be Tommy Reed.

The teams as announced will be
as follows:

Vancouver—Tommy Reed (captain), P. Broadfoot, W. A. Wyles, R.
Leigh, C. Addie, W. A. Honnell,
Vickers, J. C. B. Price, W. G.
Ivamy, S. Prenter, T. Reed and A. N.
Other. C. B. Davy will accompany the team as umpire.

Victoria—E. D. Freeman (captain)
of Albion, F. A. Sparks, R. Wenman,
H. Allen (Innocent), F. L. Watson, J.
H. Gillespie, G. C. Grant (Victoria),
E. C. P. L. Leggett and J. Gravett (Cowichan). The umpire will be Capt. Coley, and Jesse Longfield will be the scorers.

The two teams, with the umpire
and scorers, will be served with luncheon on the ground, and facilities have been made for extra luncheon to be provided so that any spectator will be accommodated at a reasonable figure should he wish to stay on the ground. The will also be a nominal cost.

Tickets have been in circulation
for the past two weeks, and report
is made that sales are satisfactory.
The cost of the tickets is to help defray expenses in connection with the match, but a collection will be taken on the ground during the afternoon,
and anyone holding a ticket will not be expected to make a donation unless he or she so desires.

LAWN BOWLING

The fixtures in the Greater Victoria
Lawn Bowling League for Saturday
are as follows:
Rangers vs. Maroon at Beacon Hill.
White vs. Purple at Belleville.
Gold vs. Rovers at Burnside Street.

Fourth as the field rounded off the back stretch, the Luckey entry moved up with rapidity and urged up in the stretch, shot in ahead of Freddie Fear to win the straight money by a nose. The horse was third favorite and paid $12.50 on a $2 straight bet.
Freddie Fear, the second choice, was easily second, having the lead right
after the quarter post had been passed and only relinquishing it to Nornal on the stretch. Steppover was third, having the lead in first place by three and one-half lengths
to take third place.

Flowers made good his defence in Madison Square Garden last night
before 15,000 persons, but did not overcome the unanimous verdict of the officials. Referee Jimmy Crowley favored Greb.

In far better condition than when he last fought in the ring, Greb
last February in the same ring, Greb was credited by newspapermen
with capturing six of the fifteen rounds, while eight went to Flowers
and one was even.

Round One—Greb was the first to land, leaping in with a left to the body but taking a counter to the jaw. Greb rushed in with a right
and they mixed it at a fast pace.
Greb connected with a hard smack
to the head. Harry rushed the champion to the ropes and the crowd was in an uproar. At close quarters Flowers pounded Greb's body. They exchanged lefts to the stomach and Flowers connected with a vicious left hook to the ribs. The Tiger was set back on his heels by two lefts to the jaw, and they were in a wild mix-
up at the bell.

Round Two—Greb jumped in with a left to the body. They clinched slugged away with both fists. Both were wild with their rights but the Tiger connected with a left hook to the body that sent Greb to the ropes.
Flowers ducked a vicious right swing
but took a glancing left to the jaw.
Greb connected with a right to the chin and wrestled the champion out of his corner. An upcut opened a cut over Greb's left eye. Greb was pounding the champion's body at the bell.

GREB BACKS UP

Round Three—Flowers met Greb
coming out of his corner and landed a right to the head. The Tiger struggled to tear them apart from a slip in which the champion punished Greb severely. The Tiger hooked his left and followed with a smashing left to the ribs. The challenger was backing away from the negro's fierce attack. Flowers turned around and landed a right
after taking a right to the nose. Greb connected with a wild right that glanced off the champion's chin and danced away from the Tiger's counter punch just before the bell.

Round Four—Greb shot a straight
right to the jaw but took four wallops to the head in return. They mixed away at close quarters with the champion rushing the challenger longer at his own game. Flowers beat a tattoo on Greb's ribs. Harry sparred and danced away from the Tiger's attack, countering with a right to the jaw. He laced Flowers with two rights to the head, one of which started a flow of blood from the champion's forehead. Flowers was melting away when the gong sounded.

BOTH COMPLAIN

Round Five—Greb complained of holding by the champion but the Tiger countered with a right to the head. Harry came in and fight. Greb took a right to the chin and a two-fisted pounding in the stomach as they clashed together. Flowers complained that Greb stuck his finger in his eye.
Greb missed a straight right and Flowers blocked a left. Flowers crashed a smashing left hook to Greb's stomach. He repeated the punch up against the ropes. Just before the bell the champion took a left hook to the head.

Round Six—As they were wrestling
away from a clinch, Flowers stumbled and nearly fell, the ropes saving him
from hitting the canvas. Greb followed up with a fierce attack, shooting his right to the ribs and his left to the jaw. He landed a vicious right to the head and battered the challenger's body. The referee warned Greb for unfair tactics in a clinch. The challenger had opened a cut over the Tiger's nose. Flowers was clipped Harry with two wallops
to the head just before the round ended.

FLINGING BOTH FISTS

Round Seven—They started off at a furious pace, both slugging away from the tap of the bell. Greb rocked the Tiger with a right swing to the head but took several stiff punches
to the jaw in return. Harry's straight right was finding its mark more frequently and slowing up the Tiger's ruses. They flung both fists at each other along the ropes, but Greb caught himself before he could land a right
before the bell and then complained to the referee that the champion was holding.

ROUND EIGHT—FLOWERS FOUGHT HIS

way out of a clinch but sat down with a thud as he tripped over a bow on his arms and elbows but Greb caught a right to the chin just before the bell. The challenger plumed after the Tiger in a corner and was happy to be chased to his corner by the referee.

ROUND NINE—THEY FIATLED AWAY IN

a hot mix-up, exchanging stiff body
blows. Greb rolled and ducked out of the Tiger's range after a clinch.
Both were shooting their punches
from all angles but most of them
failed to connect. They exchanged snapping lefts to the chin then locked in a clinch. They were punching away at close quarters
when the bell sounded.

WILD EXCHANGES

Round Ten—Flowers hooked his left to the stomach and then danced out of range. Greb led in with both fists but the champion returned to his attack with a stinging left to the head. The champion landed both fists heavily to the body, but took an uppercut to the jaw in return. Flowers backed Greb to a corner and punched away with both fists. Greb caught the champion with a backhand wallop to the head. The bell broke up a wild exchange.

ROUND ELEVEN—GREB TOOK A SMASHING

left to the face as he rushed in,
but countered with a hard right to the head. Both were swinging freely but the Tiger was finding his body attack very effective, forcing Greb to give ground. Flowers smacked both hands to the head and Greb was appearing at long range
while backing away from the Tiger's
drive when the bell sounded.

ROUND TWELVE—GREB LED WITH A

right to the body and was then wrestled to the floor in a clinch.
Greb was on his feet without a count.
The Tiger battered Harry's ribs viciously
as they came together. Greb was wild, but mixed willingly. Flowers landed an overhand right to the head
but took a hard left to the body in return. Greb was tiring and clinched repeatedly just before the bell. The bell opened a cut over Greb's eye.

STAGGERS GREB

Round Thirteen—The referee had difficulty prying them apart from clutches. With cuts over both eyes Greb appeared in bad shape. Flowers stumbled and went to his knees
as he was pushed from a clinch. The Tiger caught Greb on the chin twice with vicious chops. Greb swung both fists to the head but missed and took a pounding from the Tiger's counter punch. A right to the head staggered Greb just before the bell.

ROUND FOURTEEN—GREB TOOK A RIGHT to the cheek and countered with a left to the chin. Harry rushed in and connected to the head and body with telling blows. The challenger rushed the champion to the ropes and absorbed a hard right to the jaw. Greb landed both hands to the head and then clinched. Greb was forcing the fighting and driving the Tiger back. They were in a wild mix-up at the bell, and the referee

was forced to separate them.

CROWD IN AN UPROAR

Round Fifteen—Both handi-cappers were over his furious before the gong. They came together in a clinch and Greb drove both hands to the body, wrestling the champion off his feet up against the ropes. The Tiger caught himself before going down and then they punched away
with both fists while the crowd was in an uproar. Flowers ducked a right and nailed Greb on the head with a left hook. Both bobbed around looking for an opening. Flowers nearly fell out of the ring as they wrestled along the ropes. Flowers hooked his left to the jaw and danced out of range. They crashed together both landing to the body. They were in a furious exchange and had to be pried
apart when the bell rang. The Tiger did a handspinning before going to his corner.

MY ANTY CASE

By Carolyn Wells

© 1926 by G.P. PUTNAM SONS

CHAPTER VII

Dr. Conklin was fairly well acquainted with the Heaths, for, on occasion, he had prescribed for their minor ailments, and had, too, once or twice met them socially.

He was a Gardens man himself, for, of course, no gardener would have a Park physician.

But the police had to come from the Park, and it was astonishing how quickly they managed to appear.

Three or four men arrived, but the coroner and a detective took the case in hand.

With a perfunctory nod at the brief summary, Dr. Conklin gave him, the coroner set about his own examination of the body.

He had never known Myra Heath in life, and that, with a nod, he pronounced her dead.

But he showed his amazement at the candlestick with its traces of burnt-out candles, and especially at the penne card.

"The Work of Perry Heath," he read, with an incredulous expression on his shrewd, small countenance. "Her husband, eh? Where is he?"

Informed that Heath was inexplicably missing, he nodded sagaciously.

"Made his getaway, did he? Well, it'll be a hard job to find him, for if he had the nerve to sign his handwriting, he must be well out of the neighborhood by this time. What say about how long she's been dead, Conklin? Some seven or eight hours, eh?"

"Hard to tell, Dr. Osborn. Perhaps your guess is about right, I'd put it eight, anyway."

"Well, seven or eight. It's nine now—say she was killed 'long about two o'clock."

"I don't see how we can set it any more positively. The skull is fractured, you see."

"Yes, beastly work! Must have been a tramp thug, eh?"

"Well, the bottle is no clue to the intruder. For that's one of Mrs. Heath's own bottles."

"Her bottle! This old booze holder?"

"Yes, she collected them. See the row of them in that cabinet?"

"My stars! Osborn looked in amazement at the neat row of old liquor bottles on the shelf. "What-ever did she want of them?"

"They have a certain value to collectors. Anyway, I'm confident this was one of hers. I've seen her collection before, and I've heard her exult over certain specimens. Wasn't this bottle the property of Mrs. Heath?" he added, turning suddenly to Inman.

"Yes," Larry stammered, not much ill at ease as startled by the abrupt question.

"Have you any idea who used it to brain her?"

"It was the pet device of Osborn's to fire an unexpected question at a witness, and watch its effect."

"I? No, indeed! How could I have?"

Mott, the detective sergeant, took up the matter then, and in a quiet, almost gentle manner, began to ask definite questions.

"Who discovered Mrs. Heath's body here?" he asked.

"Katie, the parlor maid," Herrick answered.

"Where is she? Tell her to come here."

Herrick nodded to the girl, who came slowly into the room and stood before Mott.

"Tell the story of what happened," said Mott, gravely but not too sternly.

"Well, sir, I came down stairs and went to my work."

"At what time?"

Katie flushed a little, and said, "I was a bit late, sir. I'm to be down at eight and it was ten or fifteen after."

"Not more than that?"

"No, sir. And I tidied up the lounge, and dusted about a bit, then I came in here to do the same, and as soon as I got through the door I saw—that—she pointed to Myra's body."

"What did you do?"

"I let out a yell that they must have heard over at the Park! I couldn't help it—I was that scared, sir."

"Yes, you must have been startled. What next?"

"Then I just ran to the pantry to find Herrick, and I told him."

"You didn't stop to look at Mrs. Heath more closely, and you didn't didn't touch her?"

"Goodness, no. Touch her? I should say not! I just rushed out of this room as quick as I could."

"Is this the gown Mrs. Heath was wearing last evening?"

"Yes, sir, the very same, only, of course, she didn't have that scarf on, nor those beads. That's Miss Bunny's scarf."

"Make no remarks, except in answer to questions. When did you last see Mrs. Heath alive?"

"Last night, about half-past eight, sir. It was my evening out, and after I fixed the bridge table in here, I went out."

"Where did you go?"

"I went to the movies. Over in Garden Park."

"What time did you come home?"

Katie turned red. "I don't just know—I didn't notice."

"Ah, you were later than you should have been."

"A—little."

"Katie's a good girl," Herrick spoke up for her. "She might have been a minute or two late, but nothing to do any harm."

"Never mind that now," Mott said. "When you came in, Katie, did you notice anything unusual about?"

"Well—no, sir."

Clearly she had been about to make a different answer and suddenly changed her mind.

Again Mott said, "Never mind that now," and proceeded with his queries.

"Do you recognize this bottle, Katie?" He pointed to the pieces without touching them.

"Oh, yes, sir."

"Where is it?"

"Why it was Mrs. Heath's. The newest one she had. She set a deal by it, sir. It was she?"

"Yes, sir. Said it was the finest of the whole bunch. Terrible looking things, I call 'em!"

CHAPTER VIII

And ordered it was, for Mott had a way of making his most casual remarks seem accusatory, and his slightest question often hinted at vital import.

"Being the nearest relative of Mrs. Heath present, I assume, Mr. Inman, that you are deeply anxious to learn who committed that shocking crime."

"Yes," said Larry, and no more.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Slamming Door

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Oh, goodness me! Can't you do something about it?" sighed Mrs. Longears, in Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow one day.

"Do something about what, my love?" asked the rabbit gentleman

"Ow! Wowie! Wow!" the Fox howled.

kindly, for he knew his wife was nervous and often had headaches. "Fix that slamming screen door," went on Mrs. Longears. "Every time the children run in and out, and they do it all day, they let that door slam and it gives me the craw-craws, not to mention the dinky wobbles."

"Bang! Slam!" sounded through the bungalow.

"There it goes again!" sighed the rabbit lady, holding her paws to her head.

"Yes, I heard it myself," said Uncle Wiggily, and, leaning out of the window he saw Jingle and Jangle hopping down the back steps. The two little rabbit girls had come in to get some carrot bread and clover jam from Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. Going out they had let the screen door slam hard.

"It's terrible!" cried Mrs. Longears. "Can't you do something to make the door shut more softly?"

"I'll try, my precious," said the bunny. "But tell me—did that last slam give you the craw-craws or the dinky wobbles?"

"Both!" sighed his wife.

"Bad—very bad," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "I must fix it at once. You had better stuff some cotton in your ears."

"Stuff cotton in my ears! What for?"

"So you won't hear the door slam many times in the next five minutes," said the bunny uncle. "You see," he explained, "I am going to open and shut the door and let it slam hard, very often, so I can find the best way of making it soft."

"Ah, right," said his wife. "But instead of stuffing cotton in my ears so I won't hear the noise, I'll hop across the street and visit my friend, Mrs. Twistytail."

When Uncle Wiggily's wife was in the lady pig's house, the bunny gentleman tried the screen door to see just how hard it slammed, and to try to discover a way of making it softer. In and out he hopped, just as did the forty-seven little bunny children. For it was their trips into and out of the house that kept the screen door busy.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was trying the door, jumping in and out as the children did, from the bushes back of the bungalow, the Fuzzy Fox saw him.

"That rabbit must be crazy!" thought the Fox. "He has gone silly in his old age, popping in and out of the door so many times. And if he is silly I ought to be able easily to catch him. I'll slink up close and the next time he jumps in through the doorway, letting the screen slam after him, I'll follow and nibble his ears."

To and fro Uncle Wiggily let the screen door slam and bang, but he could think of no way to make the sound softer. Then, all of a sudden the Fox, who had crept nearer and nearer, suddenly slipped in after the rabbit. The door slammed shut, but it made no sound at all.

Why, do you ask? I shall tell you.

Because the Fox didn't get his big, dusting brush of a tail out of the way in time, and the door slammed on it, the fuzzy hair causing all noise to stop.

"Ha!" cried Uncle Wiggily, turning about. "I have discovered a way to stop the screen door slamming! And then he saw the Fox with his tail caught and the Fox howled:

"What do you mean? Letting the door slam on my tail that way? Ow! Wowie! Wow!" And, giving his tail a yank, the Fox pulled it loose and, pushing open the door with his paw, away he ran. His tail was too sore to let him stay to nibble the bunny's ears.

"But I have discovered a way!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Something soft, hung between the door and the side, will stop the noise. I can't have the tail of the Fox—Ah! I have it! a soft rubber ball such as the children bounce!"

No sooner said than done. Off he hopped to the one and two penny store, where he bought a rubber ball. When this was fastened on the screen door, there were no more slams or bangs, and Mrs. Longears was happy all the rest of the Summer. And if Jack Frost will turn two dew drops into ear rings for the gold fish, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the cat bird.

AORANGI DOCKED HERE YESTERDAY FROM AUSTRALIA

Australasian Motorship Here
With Passenger List Totaling 454

Vessel Made Fast Trip, Docking Twelve Hours Ahead of
Her Schedule

On her eleventh voyage to this coast from Australia, the Canadian-Australasian motorship Aorangi docked at Pier 2 yesterday evening at 5.30 o'clock. Capt. A. C. Showman, regular skipper of the R.M.S. Niagara, was on the bridge of the Aorangi this trip in place of Capt. R. Crawford, who is on his annual vacation.

The motorship made another fast trip from the southern continent, arriving here twelve hours ahead of her schedule.

The Aorangi brought passengers totaling 454, including 315 first class, 136 second class and 100 third class travelers.

In cargo the motorship has 1,200 tons aboard, comprised chiefly of frozen meat, butter and pineapples.

Among the passengers on board were Sir William and Lady Vickers, Brigadier-General W. K. Bolton, Rev. Father M. J. Conlon, Capt. C. Croker, O.B.E., Col. H. Tarrant, Surgeon-Lieut. Morrow, J. D. Balchelder, Rev. W. E. Bentley, Rev. L. Daniels, Mrs. M. McIlroy, G. A. Killingback, Mrs. W. N. Horsfall, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. King, L. Ledgerwood, S. Newbury, E. M. O'Connor, H. E. Paddy, A. V. Richardson, Mrs. L. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Russell, Miss E. Simmons, Mrs. C. Stevens, Colonel Harley, H. G. Tewksbury, Mrs. L. Wardwell, Miss L. Wilmet, W. E. Pennick and A. Wren.

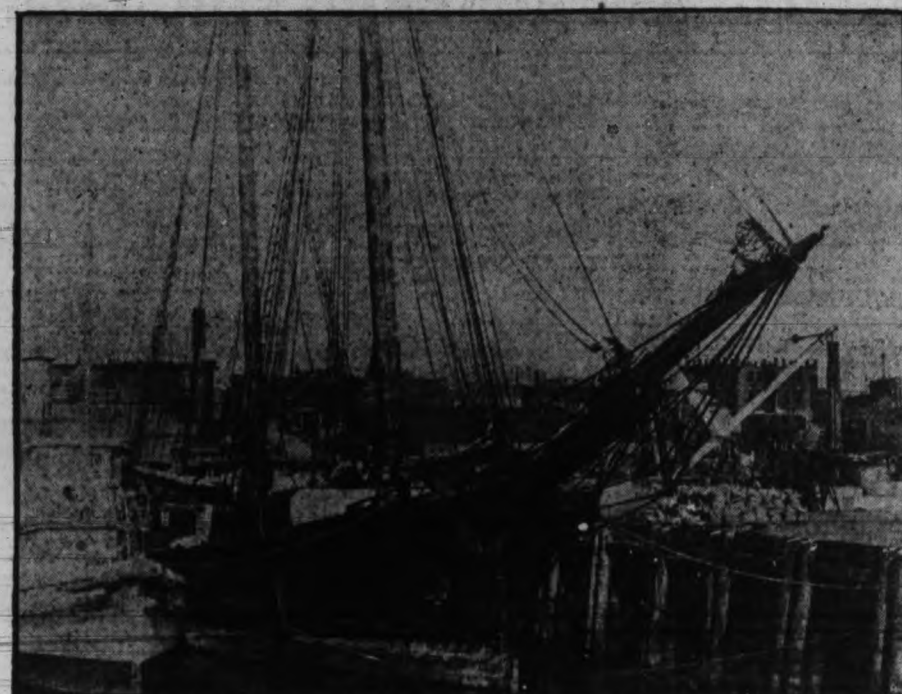

SEATTLE SHIPPING
Seattle, Aug. 20.—In the Pacific, Caribbean and Gulf liner service, the steamer Point Judith shifts to Anacortes from here to-day to load several consignments for Curacao and Venezuela. She shifts to Anacortes Saturday to load additional cargo.

The American-Australia-Orient liner Westlip is expected here to-day to load for New Zealand and Australia. She loads for English ports.

The British steamer Penmoor, which arrived here yesterday, is to load one of the largest consignments of wheat to be shipped from Seattle this year. She began loading to-day and will take 3,200 long tons of wheat.

H.M.C.S. Patrician
To Visit Royal City
New Westminster, Aug. 19.—A communication has been received by Mayor T. S. Annandale from G. J. Desbarats, deputy minister of the Department of National Defence, stating that the H.M.C.S. Patrician will be at New Westminster September 4 to 6.

SUBJECT OF EXCHEQUER COURT HEARING SOON

LIRIO DE AGUA

For several years the schooner Lirio de Agua (Water Lily) has been held at this port under customs seizure for alleged irregularities in her papers and a reputed voyage with a cargo of rum. Her owners appealed from a ruling of the Minister of Justice, which supported the customs claim and condemned the vessel. The appeal goes by way of an action against the Crown in the Exchequer Court, and the sitting is called for September 14, at 11 a.m., in the Court House, Bastion Street. Mr. Justice McLean, president of the court, will preside. At this hearing the schooner's owners have either to support their claim for the recovery of the vessel or else lose by default. At the time of her seizure her crew commenced a tentative action on a lien for wages, but were stopped by the priority of the Crown's claim against the vessel.

ESTEVAN LEAVES TO TAKE ON FUEL

Lighthouse Tender Will Soon
Sail With Winter Supplies
For Stations

After being laid up for some two months for repairs the Canadian Government lighthouse tender Estevan left the Marine wharf this morning bound for Nanaimo, Ioco and Port Moody. At Nanaimo the vessel will load coal, while at Ioco and Port Moody she will take on oil and distillate.

During her lay-over here the Estevan had her boilers re-tubed at the Victoria Machinery Depot, while considerable work was also carried out on the vessel's machinery.

The Estevan will return to Victoria from her present trip to load the annual winter supplies for the West Coast stations. Following this the ship will sail for the West Coast and return to Victoria.

O.S.K. MANAGER RETURNING HERE ON ARABIA MARU

S. Uchida, general manager in North America for the Osaka Kaisha Steamship Line, is a passenger aboard the Arabia Maru, according to an announcement made this morning by A. E. Shanks of Rithet Consolidated Limited, local agents. The Arabia is due here early Sunday morning from the Far East.

Mr. Uchida was expected back here on the last vessel, the Arizona Maru, the ship on which he made the trip out to the Orient. He is returning accompanied by his wife from a two months' vacation in the Far East.

before coming back to her base here she will proceed up to Prince Rupert to carry out some work.

The C.G.S. Newington will not come down to Victoria this year, but will remain at her station at Digby Island all winter.

TWELVE-MILE LIMIT STILL SEARCH ZONE

United States Court of Appeal
Gives Ruling

Boston, Aug. 20.—The "twelve-mile limit" is still the margin of the coast guard's right to search and seize, the United States Circuit Court of Appeal held here to-day in a majority opinion in the case of James W. Lee of Gloucester.

Lee was captured in his motor boat laden with liquor said to have been received from the French schooner L'Homme on February 18, 1925, about twenty-four miles off Boston Light.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL KING ARRIVES ON GIANT MOTORSHIP

Sir William Vickers to Speak
in Vancouver on Australian Conditions

Sir William Vickers, director of John Vickers & Company, and the Sydney Woolen Mills of Australia, arrived here last evening aboard the Ms. Aorangi from the Antipodes on his way to Vancouver, where he will address the Canadian Club of that city on Monday on "Industrial Conditions in Australia Today."

Accompanied by his son and Lady Vickers, Sir William is on an extended tour which may take him as far as eastern American cities, before he finally sets out for England, there to return to his home. Sir William has been in Australia since 1925.

Together with Lady Vickers he was a passenger aboard the Aorangi in January, 1925, when the big motorship first came to this coast bound for the south Pacific. He was a passenger on her maiden voyage on the Canadian-Australasian run.

Sir William is a leading authority on wool and the woolen industry of Australia, and has served a year as chairman of the New South Wales State Registration Board.

Sir James is a distinguished soldier of the High Court of Australia, and the Supreme Court of Victoria, was business adviser to the Commonwealth Government, Minister of Trade and Customs, and Minister of Education from 1909 to 1920 in the Victorian Government and from 1901 to 1905 was member of the House of Representatives for Corio in the Australian Commonwealth Parliament.

In Gallipoli, during the late war, he commanded the 2nd Australian Infantry Brigade. He also commanded the 5th Brigade in Egypt and France, subsequently becoming G.O.C. of the Australian Imperial Force, and Commander of the Legion of Honor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins were passengers also. Mr. Collins who is Secretary of the Commonwealth Treasury, is on his way to London. There were a number of other prominent passengers on the ship, including the team of traveling New Zealand All-Black cricketers, the organization the New Zealand Rugby League has adopted.
